

Memorandum of Agreement
TCSG Affiliate Institutions
Cooperative Academic Arrangement

Purpose

Institutions of the Technical College of System of Georgia (TCSG) agree to enter this Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) for a Cooperative Academic Arrangement (CAA) to provide an opportunity to deliver in- demand online courses and programs to students across the state using a collaborative shared resources model. The TCSG institutions that elect to accept this agreement shall be referred to herein as "affiliate institutions." All affiliate institutions are accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC); each has been approved for delivery of distance education programs/courses and will adhere to the SACSCOC Principle of Integrity.

Affiliate Institutions will regularly evaluate this cooperative academic arrangement and maintain records of such. The arrangement may be brought under review for revision upon request by one or more of the affiliate institutions. The institution may terminate participation in this arrangement under terms provided below.

Responsibilities of the Home Institution

- I. Review and approval of the course content. The curriculum is developed by faculty subject matter experts. Each affiliate institution will conduct review and approval of courses by its faculty through the regular institutional processes.
- II. Review and approval of faculty qualifications. It is the responsibility of the affiliate institution to ensure that faculty teaching in the cooperative academic arrangement meet the faculty credentialing standards set forth by the institution and by SACSCOC.
- III. Regularly scheduled evaluation of the quality and integrity of the content and of student learning outcomes. The assessment process for the courses will include assessment of student learning outcomes in courses, assessment of student learning based on key performance indicators, course evaluations completed by students, and/or evaluations of full and part-time faculty members.
- IV. Assurance of academic quality. All course credit will be awarded by the student's identified home institution. The institution ensures the academic quality of all academic work resulting in credit recorded on the student's academic transcript.

Responsibilities of the Host Institution

- I. Course content. Provides documentation of the course content and curriculum, including course description and objectives, student learning outcomes, course grading/evaluation and any required textbook(s), software, and/or course materials.
- II. Faculty Qualifications. Provides documentation of faculty qualifications, to include copies of transcript(s), certification(s) and/or other information relevant to the assigned course(s).
- III. Quality. Provides documentation of the evaluation of student learning outcomes, course evaluations completed by students.
- IV. Student Records. Maintains and provides as needed accurate student records in accordance with TCSG policy (e.g., student records retention related to graded assignments).
